I designed a custom loader that will load the needed files, save the hack to the given folder, and remove the folder afterwards. This also allows you to run different games with the same code. The following are the features I made. 1) Save To: Save to the desired folder, with the ability to configure the folder name. 2) Run Game: Run the game on the specified path. 3) Update Info: The Hack will auto-update info on the game server. The only person that needs to be online is me. The following features are on the table. Pre: 1) Easy and intuitive interface. 2) Ability to update codes on the fly. Without restarting the game. 3) The ability to run multiple games with the same hack. 4) The ability to bypass the server-side check. Post: 1) Save the current game files on the SD card, so you don't need to load them all the time. The save will save it to the root of the SD card. 2) Completely Unhackable. If the hack is detected, the hack will remove itself and save a new hack. 3) Delete the save file on the SD card. Since you can run multiple games with the same hack, the game is completely unhackable. 4) The program will handle the update and delete operations for you. To do so, it will automatically update and remove the save file. 5) The program will send a request for the game to be automatically updated to the server. Once the server updates the game, the program will not update the file, instead it will automatically delete the file so it doesn't look suspicious. You can run multiple game servers, but I recommend to use only one. Instructions: -Install MicroSD Card Reader (or a Memory Card Reader) on your Android device. -Download the APK file for the game you want to hack. -Create a folder on your SD card for the hack. -Run the hack with the given folder path and save it. -Open the APK file on your device. -Turn off the device and use the APK as usual. -The game server will recognize the hack and download the update. -The update will be installed and the hack will auto-run, and will be removed after a few seconds. -You can run any number of games with the same hack.
